WHO'S TO PAY THE FREIGHT FOR FRANCIS?

Uncle Sam Will Give Him
Lovely Letters, but That's All.

"THANK YOU," HE'LL SAY

President Endorses Directors'
Move and Names Him
Envoy,

MEXICO HIS FIRST STOP

Then He Will Literally "Survey Mankind From China to Peru."

What David R. Francis takes a trip of ribbons and medals and starts around the world to thank the rulers of the various countries which participated in the World's Fair, who will be the Macenas to pay the freight, as Macenas of old did when Horace made Rome howl?

President Francis is in Nebraska City, Neb., today making a speech at the annual meeting of the state bar, the late J. Sterling Morton, who was Secretary of Agriculture in President Cleveland's second Cabinet at the time Mr. Francis was Secretary of the Interior, and therefore cannot answer this momentous question. But there is a strong intimation that the necessary plunks, spandrels and sestieres will have to be digged up out of the coffers of Mr. Francis.

One thing is certain, and that is, that while Mr. Francis will take the mandate of the official representative of Uncle Sam, Uncle Sam will not be the Macenas in this case.

The Government will provide the World's Fair president with a lovely letter of introduction to all the big wigs and main squeezes around the circuit, and it will furnish millions for his defense in case some pampered mental attempt to drive him from the palace door, not one cent of tribute will it pay to the exposition company in the way of expense money.

How It All Happened.

It was Sam Kennard who introduced a resolution at a meeting of World's Fair directors a few weeks ago suggesting the president of the Fair be sent to Mexico to receive the crown of siver and medals of gold to the nations who came to visit us last year.

Word was at once telegraphed to Pe-tus J. Wade, Walter Hill and Flins E.
Marshall, who were in Washington attending a bankers' convention, and they saw secretary of State Root and urged on him the advisability of having Mr.
Francis do foot-loose around the globe for the purpose named.

William H. Thompson, Corwin H.
Spencer, S. K. Knobell, Franklin
D. Dasher, Eugene H. Merk-erick and D. M. House backed up this late-pated talk with a telegram to the secretary of State, and in return the Secretary of State has written to Mr. Francis, asking him if he can spare a little time—12 months or so—to run around the globe and tell the other countries how thankful we are that they came over to Missouri to snow and be entertained.

President Francis has not yet replied,
but it is said that he will go to Washington to arrange the details.

Many Lands to Visit.

In case of his acceptance, it is certain that he will visit the following countries: First, Mexico, because Mexico was the first country to accept the invitation to participate in the World's Fair; then Argentina, Brazil, Costa Rica, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, China, Japan, France, Germany, Holland, Great Britain, Guatemala, Hayti, Italy, Nicaragua, the Netherlands, Peru, Persia, Portugal, San Salvador, Sweden, and Spain.

Whether he will visit Canada, Ceylon, Egypt, Guatemala, India, Japan, New Zealand, yet to be determined. As of these countries are dependencies of greater powers, it is a question whether they will be visited individually or through their chief rulers. They may be thanked by the exposition company on behalf of the Government.

At present, Francis has not yet replied,
but it is said that he will go to Washington to arrange the details.

SHOT KILLED WOMAN.

Fired by Drunken Conductor at Street Car Passenger.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 27.—E. A.
Moore, a conductor for the Savannah Electric Co., drew a revolver of heavy caliber while collecting fares and opened fire upon C. C. Seckinger, a passenger who had offended him.

One shot flew wild and severed the jacket of Mrs. Moore. Another shot struck Seckinger in the leg. Still another shot was fired by Moore, but this did not take effect.

From the crowded car, passengers emerged through windows. Mrs.
Jane E. Fairchild sustained a broken shoulder by leaping from the car.

A policeman arrested Moore, who was drunk and offered no resistance.

NEW ANNEXATION CLUB.

Twenty-five Republicans of Maplewood and Greenwood have organized a club which it is hoped, will soon become the nucleus of a new Republican party in the city. One of the aims is to secure recognition for Maplewood and Greenwood in their demands for improvements and representation in the affairs of the city, and to promote the movement for annexation to the city.

At a meeting Thursday night H. T.
Kemmler acted as chairman and a committee on organization was appointed.

Howard W. Sterling, the hotel manager of Ypsilanti, Mich., and Minnie Church, his companion, arrested here on a statutory charge, were arraigned Friday in the Court of Criminal Correction and pleaded not guilty. Their trial was set for Oct. 31. The woman was released on a $20 bond signed by Chris Schwacker. Sterling is in jail.

The charge of being a fugitive from justice, on which he was arrested last week, was dismissed by prosecuting Attorney Dalton, and the other charge, preferred by Sterling's wife, Mrs. Marie Minnie Cook Sterling, who came here from Ypsilanti to prosecute him, was substituted.

Sterling was arrested last week at the Albany apartments, 873 Page boulevard, where he and Minnie Church are said to have been known as man and wife.

Mrs. Sterling was in court when her husband and Minnie Church were arraigned, and she saw her husband, a six-footer of striking appearance, led away to jail.

Mrs. J. E. Pugh, at whose house on Locust street, it is said Sterling and the woman were known as a married couple in September, was in court, and will be a witness for the prosecution. Mrs. Sterling is staying with her wife in court in

Diminutive Tommy Arnold
Warned Against Weapons,
Then Freed.

Judge Tracy, in City Hall Police Court
Friday, peered over his gold-rimmed glasses curiously. Before him was a very little boy, with big, wide open brown eyes, staring up at him. He was the tiniest and most innocent looking defendant who has been in court in many a day.

"What is your name, my boy?"

"Tommy Arnold, sir."

"Are you quite sure you are over 14 years old, Tommy?"

"Yes, sir," and the big eyes didn't waver.

"Well, Tommy, what did you do to disturb the peace of Nichols Brooke?"

"I cut him, sir."

"Cut him, and the glasses nearly slid off the judicial nose."

"Yes, sir."

"Knife, sir."

"It was out at the St. Louis Dressed Beef place, on Manchester avenue.
I was cutting kidneys, and Mr.
Brooke, who was eating, was trimming bone. Some of the other boys were throwing kidneys at Mr. Brooke, and because he was cutting them, I stepped in and knocked him down. Then I took my knife and knocked him down again. Then I took my knife and cut him."

"You're still in this world, Tommy?"

"I mean he is still alive, or is he in prison?"

"The brown eyes brightened. 'O, yes,
you see I only cut him in the leg.'

Judge Tracy frowned severely at his little book for some time. Then he said:

"Tommy, I don't know whether you were actually bad, but the boy did get into trouble, but when you do, learn from it. You are not too young to use a weapon as the last resort. I am going to discharge you, Tommy."

"Thank you, sir," the boy said.

GOVERNMENT RUSHES TROOPS TO SAVE ST. PETERSBURG

Thousands of Soldiers Hurrying From Tsar-koe-Selo and Reval to Reinforce Garrison at Russian Capital and Suppress Strikers and Revolutionists.

LIGHT PLANT WRECKED AND CITY IN DARKNESS

Strikers Smash Machinery Preventing Turning on Light and People Are in Panic—Czar Makes Witte Premier With Dictatorial Power to Restore Order.

The difference in time between St. Petersburg and St.
Louis is about seven hours—that is, 3 p. m. here is about 10
p. m. there.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—Reinforcements of troops are pouring into the city. The yellow cuirassiers, hussars and the Omsk regiment have arrived here from Tsarkoe-Selo and 6000 soldiers are coming by water from Reval to save the capital from threatening strikers and revolutionists.

Tonight great crowds are on the streets, mobs are forming here and there in various quarters and the situation is full of dread and alarm to citizens.

All the street cars have stopped running and a panic prevails among all classes of people.

Bloody outbreak is feared at any moment.

To add to the alarm, the strikers have succeeded in stopping the machinery of the electric light plant and the city is plunged in darkness.

Revolution is in the air and the Government recognizes the fact.

Orders have been given the commanders of all regiments in the capital to use ball cartridges in their arms and to instruct their soldiers to shoot to kill whenever necessary to disperse mobs or threatening crowds, and the commanders were to be the judges of the necessity.

Notices to this effect were posted on all street corners.

TRAINS RUN UNDER GUARD.

Several trains with military escorts have forced their passage from Moscow, but the railroad sleep is practically as tight as on yesterday.

The Government's railroad battalions are now exhausted. The last were sent to Moscow and Syzran last night.

The most alarming reports are circulating about affairs in the south of Russia.

Private reports received here are said to confirm the stories of the mutiny and the bombardment of Catherine II and the destruction by incendiaries of the battleship Patelaem, formerly the Kniaz Potemkin, but the authorities do not confirm the rumors and telegrams of inquiry remain unanswered.

The police were sent to all shopkeepers during the night and told them to remove the blinds from their windows and doors and open them this morning for business.

It was a much surprised St. Petersburg that awoke this morning and found everything open for business.

The strikers were most surprised and no indications of mobs or rioting have yet appeared.

INCREASING PETROF GUARDS.

ROOSEVELT ON CRUISER BOUND FOR NORFOLK

President Sleeps After Light-house Tender Collides With Fruit Steamer.

HIS BOAT IS BEACHED

Taken Off by Ivy and Transferred to the West Virginia.

FOUR DAYS AT SEA

Wireless Telegraphy to Keep Him in Communication With Shore.

NEW ORLEANS La., Oct. 27.—President Roosevelt is at sea on the cruiser, the Ivy, bound for Norfolk. His trip from New Orleans to the cruiser was attended by a collision.

The lighthouse tender Magnolia, with the President and his party aboard, left this city at 6:30 last night, and 60 miles down the river, near Nairn, La., at about midnight, came in collision with the freight steamer Esparta. The rail and port bow of the Magnolia were damaged and two or three holes made in the hull below the water line. No one was hurt.

Roosevelt Crosses to Bed.

The Magnolia immediately on being struck was beached, her bow being high and dry. After a careful examination of the damage to the vessel it was evident that there was no danger, and the President and his party went to bed.

Mag. Craighill of the United States engineers was aboard the Magnolia, his ship, the Ivy, a sister ship of the Magnolia, having preceded the Magnolia and being some distance ahead. A boat was immediately put off for the nearest telephone, about a mile and a half away, and the order given to head the Ivy off at Pilot Station and have her return for the President and his party. The transfer was made at 3 o'clock this morning.

Nature is on the right or west bank of the river, and is in a bend. It is presumed here that both boats were run aground close to the shore. "As the Magnolia was struck in the port bow, the theory is that she was near enough to the shore to be immediately run aground."

Boards the Cruiser.

The cruiser West Virginia was lying at anchor when the Ivy reached her at 8:40 and the President stepped aboard safe and sound after an exciting experience. The West Virginia was struck in the port bow and she started after her journey up the coast.

For four days the President will be absent from American soil, which has never heretofore happened to a President during his term, but through the means of wireless telephony it is promised that he will be seen out of communication with the shore.

No Bernadotte for Norway.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 27.—A royal decree has been issued by the King to a Prince of the House of Bernadotte and in a letter to the President of the Bank it is firmly severs his connection with Norway.

Will Work With Kinloch.

"But this much is certain. The United States company will be of great service to the Kinloch and there will be close interchange of business between them. The long distance service of the Kinloch will of course be extended to all points to be covered by the United States Telephone Co."

Mr. Jones was the main spirit in the negotiations for the absorption by the United States company by the Indianapolis and Terre Haute companies. As cited with him were Ben Althemer and M. Stifel.

C. M. Forster was elected president of the Terre Haute and Indianapolis companies and Roy McCanne, secretary. Both Mr. Forster and Mr. McCanne are now associated with the Kinloch company.

Improvement Very Slow.

For two days after he entered the hospital there was little improvement in his condition. Then the medicine began to act as a drag on his heart, and on Aug. 23 his rate had slowed to 130 beats an hour, and two days further decrease to 120 beats an hour.

On Sept. 16, the rate was 100; Oct. 4, 86; Oct. 16, Thursday night the heart was normal, with 80 beats a minute.

Any man who treated him the boy still has a nervous heart, due to his coffee drinking. The slight improvement sends the beats above the 100 mark.

He has gone to school little, and has been unable to attend the public school because of his condition.

Their romance seemed to have ended when she alleged he struck her and knocked her down near Reservoir Park last September. He fled the city and Miss Brown secured a warrant for him. When he was arrested two weeks ago she said she would prosecute him to the bitter end and her appearance in court Friday indicated her intention to punish the man she had once loved.

Murphy relied on a bold play and won. Shortly before the case was called he took a seat directly behind Miss Brown. He leaned over and whispered to her long and eagerly. For a while the girl seemed relentless. Suddenly her tears fell. Murphy had quenched.

He accompanied her out into the hall and there, surrounded by friends, another conference was held.

His attorney, when Murphy was called, asked that the case be continued.

Prosecuting Attorney Dalton objected. "I have reason to believe that this case has been settled out of court. I shall not prosecute," he said.

Judge Moore continues the case until Nov. 2.

Emmett Murphy and his sweetheart, Brown, effected a tearful reconciliation in the Court of Criminal Appeals Friday just before he was called to the bar to answer her charge of assault and battery.

Promoters of the new $50,000,000 United States Independent Telephone Company, among them Walter D. Duffy, Benjamin Wilson, George L. Eaton, J. C. Woodbury, E. Frank Brewster, George Watson and Thomas Friends, all of Rochester, N. Y., who have just secured control of the telephone companies in Terre Haute and Indianapolis, Ind., held a conference Friday with Breckinridge Jones, fiscal agent of the St. Louis Kinloch Telephone Co., at the offices of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co.

Mr. Jones told a Post-Dispatch reporter the meeting was informal. The visiting capitalists will outline their plan to the new telephone company at dinner Friday night at the St. Louis Club, he said.

"What they purpose to do will, if my judgment, be a great thing for St. Louis," said Mr. Jones.

The Kinloch Company will not be absorbed," said Mr. Jones. "It is about to do that. It would require hundreds of millions before the company could organize on a scale to measure a gigantic organization as the Kinloch company now is."

BARBER PUTS OUT FIRE.

Adolph Mordecai, a barber on the second floor of the Michigan-Lincoln First Building, is sans eye, lashes and ears eyebrows and has badly singed hair and mustache and a burned foot as result of fighting fire in his shop.

Sept. 16, the rate was 100; Oct. 4, 86; Oct. 16, Thursday night the heart was normal, with 80 beats a minute.

When Johnny went to the institution from his house, 116 South Fourteenth street, his heart seemed to occupy the entire upper portion of his chest, its beating was diffused over so great an area. No special lesion of the heart muscle could at first be detected, although a murmur could be heard by the practiced ears of physicians.

Cutting off coffee entirely is considered responsible for the cure, although strophantidin and digitalis were given him daily. Later strychnine was used to tone up the heart muscle and was discontinued.

The boy's mother told the physicians that for two years the child had taken from nine to twelve cups of coffee every day. He had eaten nothing except cake and sweetmeats, depending for nourishment on the frequent cups of coffee.

First he developed rheumatism, and when frightened or threatened with a fall would faint and grow blue in the face. For a time he had slept sitting up in a chair and not more than three hours a night. He wanted to sit up in the room open, Mrs. Murphy said, and seemed never to get enough air.

Trustees of Church, Worsted in Wordy War With Pastor, Resign.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 27.—Presbyterian Church members of this city are up in arms over the conduct of Rev. James F. Rogers, pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, and some of the leading members of his congregation.

The trouble has been brewing for some time, but it has just been made public by a special meeting of the Presbytery which will be called to adjudge the matter.

Differences over questions of faith and doctrine have been the cause of the controversy, but personal troubles were really back of these. The pastor, who is energetic, vain and enterprising, was accused by some of the trustees of exercising his authority in a high-handed and arbitrary manner, of being a political intriguer and of resorting to political methods to maintain the whip hand.

He is a highly talented preacher, who is in the habit of saying unpleasant things in the pulpit and frequently refers to himself as a "tireless worker."

Rogers is a highly talented preacher, and his command of English is such that no member of the congregation is able to understand him. Most of the members of the congregation appear to enjoy the sermons and take their flavor from the wit and originality of the speaker.

For the most part they are with the preacher in the present controversy.

The older members think the doctor is right.

Fought Duel for Love of Girl

Dr. W. H. Wood Seriously Wounds Lester Dwight in New York.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Rivalry for the affection of a woman was the motive for a pistol fight between Lester F. Dwight and Dr. William H. Wood, in their joint apartments at 414 West 12th street.

They were both in love, the police say, with Miss Gertrude J. Fontan, daughter of a wealthy family living on Washington heights.

Dwight at the J. Hood Wright Hospital, is declared to be in a precarious condition. Wood is being held by the police pending the outcome of Dwight's injuries, and he has a slight injury on the forehead. Dwight had three bullet wounds.

Detectives say they found in the room after the shooting a ruddy revolver, leaving Wood in blood, a knife, leaving blood to his mother and $900 to Gertrude Fontan, the latter being provisional on her not marrying within a year.

Miss Fontan, who is 21 and pretty, is said to have promised her hand to Wood, and then upon introducing

Wood to his chum, to have fallen in love with Dwight.

Dwight is manager of the Cortlandt street branch of the New York Telephone Co.

ITALY'S CONSUL CLAIMS IMMUNITY

Domenico Ginochio Refuses to Testify in Cottone's Suit.

The taking of depositions in the suit of John Cottone against Police Captain James Johnson for $10,000 damages on the grounds of false imprisonment and detention will be resumed Friday afternoon in the City Counselor's office in City Hall.

International complications may enter into the action of Thursday when he ignored a summons to appear before the court.

The Italian Consul says a treaty between the United States and Italy provides that an Italian consular official shall not be compelled to testify in any court. If the Italian Consul fails to appear Friday this point will be argued. Cottone's suit grows out of the alleged defalcation of Luigi Mazza, an Italian banker, who was charged by his depositors with stealing $127,000. Cottone was arrested by Capt. Johnson after Mazza disappeared.

HEIR TO MILLION GOES TO PRISON

William Phillips Pleads for Life Sentence in Some Other Institution.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 27.—William Phillips, who is heir to a million dollars and who says his uncle is John W. Phillips, the ex-convict king of Chicago, has been sentenced here to not less than two nor more than six years in State Prison.

Phillips is only 17 years of age, but one of the boldest criminals captured here. He made a dramatic plea to Judge Gager to be sent to an institution for boys, under a protective motive of an old type. The device is placed just in front of the trencher box, which is covered by metal plates, feed-trough leading to the furnace. The contrivance consists of a long conical screw arrangement which carries the diversified material from the feed-pipe into which the coal falls and is wafted by means of a fan through the pipe into the fire.

Trying Automatic Stoker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—An automatic stoker is the latest by the New York Central people.

Experiments have practically completed at the West Albany roundhouse at which the invention will result in the most radical saving of labor and costs. The experiments are now complete and under a protective motive of an old type. The device is placed just in front of the trencher box, which is covered by metal plates, feed-trough leading to the furnace. The contrivance consists of a long conical screw arrangement which carries the diversified material from the feed-pipe into which the coal falls and is wafted by means of a fan through the pipe into the fire.

FIGHT FOR OPEN DRAMATIC FIELD

Manager Perley Says Independent Theatrical Movement Has Won Out.

EQUAL COMPETITION NOW

Gives List of New Theaters Added to Anti-Syndicate Forces.

Frank L. Perley, producer of "The Girl and the Bandit" now at the Garick, and of "The Winning Girl," the latter of which has been running at the same playhouse, arrived in St. Louis Friday morning and is stopping at the Planters Hotel. Mr. Perley is one of the "Big Five" comprising the Shuberts, David Belasco, Harrison Grey Fiske, John Fisher and himself, who are allies against the syndicate headed by Klaw & Erlanger, in an effort to break the theatrical trust, and comes direct from New York, knowing the close final negotiations by which the anti-syndicate people came into control of all the theaters.

"We are not buying any man or men as associates," said Mr. Perley to a representative reporter. "We are forming a new company with all the best men we are bringing in to compete with the syndicate. We are not trying to put up a position that places us upon equal terms with the syndicate, but to give the public the best service possible."

"At this stage, we now have sufficient capital to start our own theater, independent of any producing company, who comes to us, and we can afford to do so, because the only cities of importance in which we have a theater at the present time are Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and London, and in each of these we have contracts for the majority of theaters, which was to costly for us to do. We are seeking theaters in every other city east of the Mississippi, and we are now in negotiations, particularly with Belasco, and also with Klaw & Erlanger, and also with the syndicate."

The general public does not yet realize the magnitude of the work being done by the anti-syndicate people. We are now putting on, or have already leased, additional theaters in Baltimore, Washington—the latter being my own town, New Orleans, St. Louis, Toledo, St. Paul, Omaha, Detroit, Montreal, Norfolk, Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans, Memphis, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and Los Angeles, with the promise of certain properties to be added to our list as soon as their contracts with the syndicate expire at the close of the present season.

The general public does not yet realize the magnitude of the work being done by the anti-syndicate people. We are now putting on, or have already leased, additional theaters in Baltimore, Washington—the latter being my own town, New Orleans, St. Louis, Toledo, St. Paul, Omaha, Detroit, Montreal, Norfolk, Atlanta, Birmingham, New Orleans, Memphis, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and Los Angeles, with the promise of certain properties to be added to our list as soon as their contracts with the syndicate expire at the close of the present season.

The list of theaters given will be increased by the operation of the agreement reached a week or so ago between the managers of the new company and a group of capitalists and producing managers, headed by George B. Cox, who have given us a rate at which it is no longer possible for the syndicate to compete with us as equal competitors, but we are not forcing the issue before this point.

Our aim is to be able to produce managers as good or better in inducements than have heretofore been offered by the syndicate, and we can now do. Besides, we are going to proprietors of theaters and point out to them that it is no longer necessary for them to be a part of the syndicate exclusively, they go along, and are now in position to do so.

"By next season I think you will find the syndicate assuming an attitude toward us quite different from that which they have shown up to date. They have the promise of five or six of the most important producing managers in the country to come to us as soon as the theatrical contract expires; they are, of course, afraid to do so before that time, as they would be at the mercy of the syndicate, and the value of this season's bookings could not make to suffer heavy pecuniary loss."

"The whole thing, of course, is a contest for the money for material things, but the drama as a fine art will profit by the destruction of theatrical monopoly. We are to improve the situation for the past few years recognizes this truth. A free and fair field for worthy productions, and a wide open market that will prevent unworthy productions being forced on the public, are among the certain results of the action of the anti-syndicate, approaching one of the most interesting and significant situations known in the history of the drama in this country."

SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY

Employes in a dozen wholesale hardware houses in St. Louis are endeavoring to have their companies make the Saturday half-holiday an all-year rule instead of confining it to the summer months.

The Simmons Hardware Co. and the Norwell-Shapleigh company, the latter having closed their stores at 1 p. m. Saturday the year around, All but one of the other stores have agreed to follow suit, and all the Saturday half-holiday will affect about 200 men and women, not counting the employes of Simmons or Norwell-Shapleigh.

Hurt When Car Struck Van.

In a collision between a car of the Illinois Central and a Suburban electric line with a furniture van, in charge of John Mack and Robert Jones, boy, on Oct. 21, on Locust street and Broadway, east St. Louis, the negro was injured and the wagon wrecked. Mack's scalp was almost torn off and Jones' jaw was broken. They were taken to the Homestead Hospital.

This Is the Best Shoe Store In St. Louis for Little Folks

We devote special attention to this department and it is undoubtedly the most complete in the city. We show a broader range of styles and give by all means the best values. Now that the leather trade has curtailed the supply of leather and advanced the prices, our leadership in this line will be more pronounced, for we have on hand a very large stock and contracts for enough shoes to keep us supplied for many months to come.

Extreme care is taken in the fitting of Children's Shoes. We consider it the most essential feature. Ill fitting shoes are apt to cause deformed feet.

SAVED FROM CONSUMPTION

Mrs. A. Whittington, Homestead, Pa., cured of consumptive cough by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for over twenty years and have always found it cures. This winter I had the worst cough that I ever had in my life, and I took Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Every one thought that I was going into consumption, but I am all right now, I have told many of my friends about this remedy."

Mrs. A. Whittington,
240-17th Ave., Homestead, Pa.

Coughs, colds and grippe are prevailing generally, and few people realize how dangerous they are. No man, woman or child escapes them, and what is first considered only a trifling cold or cough, eventually develops consumption, and causes death.

When you have a cold; when you cough much; when you expectorate; when there is shortness of breath, hoarseness, rattling and wheezing sensations in the throat and lungs, it tells the approach of consumption.

For this dangerous condition

Dr. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

is an absolute cure. It has restored health to thousands of physical invalids and foreshadowed an early grave, and will do the same for you. Consumption is positively prevented by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Work, She Refused, Then
He Beat Her.

Mrs. Mamie Mulhern, 18 years of age, sheltered by the mother she left nine months ago, who now works at a sweet voice, says that she is done with him forever. Three beatings will kill any love, she explains. The police and deputy marshals are seeking Charles Mulhern, her husband, wanted to answer a charge of assault.

CHAPTER 1. The Romance and Eloement to Clayton.

Noon whistles were blowing noisy release to the toilers. One among the hundred fleeing from an office door had time to stop. He stopped and hummed, "When the love in her eyes I can see." The melody was new then.

A girl was passing—a girl with gray eyes—looked the singer straight in the face and love was born. The words of the song were in her heart.

The youth bowed. The maiden smiled.

Next evening Charlie Mulhern paid from his home to the girl's home, her mother's home, 23rd Coleman street.

He was stalwart, handsome. Red hair, blue temper, Mrs. Honora Mulhern said warningly. Her daughter laughed.

Many times her lover came. Many songs he sang. First the vocal airs, then the songs that reach the heart.

"You must not marry now," the moth-

"He has my promise. I will leave home and everything for him," said the girl.

That night her tears drenched her pillow. Next day she ran away to Clayton.

OLD AGE.

Our Local Druggists Tell People of St. Louis How to Ward off Old Age.

Some people at fifty call themselves old, and really appear so, while others at seventy seem active, vigorous and young.

A reporter of the Post-Dispatch happened in the store of The Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. the other evening, and this subject was brought up. Said Mr. Wolff of the above firm: "It is a fact, and we see it illustrated every day right here in St. Louis. It is not years; old age does not begin at any set time, but it is loss of vital force that makes a person old. A severe sickness, weakened digestion, thin blood, or poor circulation soon starts vitality on the wane and then a person rapidly ages, unless other hand," continued Mr. Wolff. "If the people of St. Louis only knew how our red liver preparation, Vinol, wards off old age, we would not have clerks enough in our store to supply the demand."

"You see, Vinol contains all the vitality making, body-building principles of cod liver oil, but without a drop of the system-clogging oil. It strengthens digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength.

A good customer of Vinol, who is seventy-eight years of age, says he would not take $1000 for the good it has done him, and we wish every aged person in St. Louis would try Vinol on our guarantee to return money if it fails." Wolff-Wilson Drug Co.

ST. LOUISAN STIRS RATE CONVENTION

Nelson W. McLeod Made Chairman of the "Rump" Convention at Chicago.

OPPOSE ROOSEVELT PLAN

Denied Admission to Regular Meeting Because Views
Differed.

The fight in Chicago among the delegates to the Interstate Commerce Law Convention, who have split up over President Roosevelt's policy for the regulation of railroad rates, is largely the result of action taken by Nelson
W. McLeod of St. Louis two weeks ago.

When the call for delegates to the convention was issued by Chairman Bacon, Secretary Mr. McLeod, as president of the National Locomotive Association, sent in the names of 15 delegates. Chairman Bacon objected to one of the delegates, saying that he was sure that the delegate was not in sympathy with the views of the President.
McLeod then wired back to Bacon asking if sympathy with the views of the President was a necessary qualification of a delegate.

Chairman Bacon answered that he so considered the matter.
Mr. McLeod, who had no intention of attending the convention as a delegate, had wired to the president of the Midwestern Association to give him an appointment as a delegate. Then he wrote to the chairman of the national delegation to advise him of his non-attendance.

With Miss Roosevelt aboard, the Harrison special train arrived at the Erie Railroad depot in Jersey City at 7:02 p.m.
last night. Mr. Harriman and family left the train at Arden, N. Y., near Tuxedo, where Mr. Harriman has a summer home.

When the train arrived no one was at the depot to meet Miss Roosevelt except policemen. She courteously declined a bodyguard, and with her friends boarded a cab, which she had personally engaged in the afternoon, when she hurried across to Manhattan and went immediately to the home of her aunt, Mrs. Douglas Robinson.

Chairman Bacon answered in the negative.

Mr. McLeod notified the presidents of several railroads and their representatives, representing it is said, 75 per cent of the industry and commerce of the country. They met in Chicago and decided that the delegates disqualfied should attend the convention, and it was agreed to have a convention on its own account.

The McLeod-Bacon correspondence which had passed between them was then put together in the form of a protest to be presented to the president of the association, and to the contemplated tour of the members of the delegation.

The protest was signed by 150 members of the association, and one of the members who signed is Dr. Harry Plym-

Fort mit dem arbitrary!

Let all parties take the hint from the President and punish their own scoundrels.

If there are enough moral yearnings in the urban community in which he is running, Mr. Jerome will be elected.

THE MILLION CLUB REDIVIVUS.

The evidence in the Post-Dispatch news columns that the Million Club is still breathing was gratifying. The meeting of the executive committee to consider the bond and free bridge question shows that the club managers are not content to let the club be nothing but a splendid, but unreal hope, a rainbow of promise on the horizon of New St. Louis.

We indulge the hope that the action of the Million Club in the bond and bridge question will not nullify the purpose of its creation; that it will not represent the pathetic helplessness and supine subservience of Old St. Louis to the power of the bridge monopoly, but be an inspiring call to independence and free commercial expansion. We indulge the hope that the "harmony" of opinion and action on the bridge toll question will not be of that familiar kind in which the lion of monopoly harmonizes the lamb of protest by swallowing it.

But there are other labors besides that of settling the bond and bridge issue, awaiting the renewed activities of the Million Club. There is the plan for the linking of the destiny of St. Louis with the development of the Southwest, for the establishing of St. Louis as the gateway of the Southwest and its recognized commercial center, for the effective advertising of St. Louis, her advantages and her products. The Post-Dispatch prize plan for increasing the population to a million has not yet been acted upon by the Million Club. It should be acted upon at once with vigor.

Before making a tour of the world as a representative of the Exposition and the United States, Gov. Francis could not do a better stroke of work than that of starting the Million Club upon a practical plan of uniting the communities of the Mississippi Valley in an organized movement for the improvement and development of the valley's resources and means of transportation. He could then go abroad with a special mission as the acknowledged representative of the organized interests of the Central West.

Mr. Cleveland has now to meet the assertion that no woman in banks have proved defaulters.

CHICAGO AFTER SCORCHERS.

Mayor Dunne of Chicago is determined to put a stop to automobile searching in his town.

This other day he had twenty-five millionaires "on the carpet" in his office—all men who his Chief of Police had informed him were persistent violators of the speed ordinance—and he told them plainly that he would revoke every license in the crowd if the holders were found guilty of running through the streets at express train speed again. J. Ogden Armour was one of the alleged offenders. Even the Mayor's rich neighbor, W. D. Harris, did not escape the official wrath.

Mayor Dunne seems to think that if he cannot have municipal ownership of automobiles, he can at least have municipal control of their speed.

The Chicago Mayor might with profit do what St. Louis is now attempting to do—have passed an ordinance fixing imprisonment as the penalty for automobile speeding.

Every man with but a few dollars thinks, with Mr. Shaw, that the currency is not elastic.

RAISE THE POLICE STANDARD.

A policeman ought to be esteemed friend and protector of every law-abiding man, woman and child on his beat.

If it is not so there is something wrong with the management and discipline.

The distribution of medals for distinguished merit is an encouragement to officers to do their duty. It tends to call out their innate manly qualities; it raises the standard of official conduct and insures a corps pride which is the best guarantee of efficiency.

But on the other hand when a policeman assaults a citizen, commits at violation or evasion of the law or makes himself obnoxious by swaggering insolence he should be punished and the punishment should fit the offense.

The police are the protectors of the law-abiding; they should be the terror of evil-doers and they should command the respect of everybody.

That this is not the unanimous sentiment in St. Louis is the fault of the police authorities themselves. An officer is not above the law. He is the instrument of the law. But it has been made plain that some policemen do not take this view, but ignorantly fancy themselves somehow exempt from the obligations of courtesy and manliness which bind other citizens.

Arrogance at the top means arrogance and brutality at the bottom. There is no escape from this proposition, and if the patrolman has unmanly notions of his duty, it is because the ideas of discipline in the chief's office are vague, loose and unintelligent.

Reform must begin at the top, and it should be along these lines: To make citizens respect and love their protectors by making their protectors worthy of respect and love. Once let the police corps know that manliness is at a premium and that brutality and meanness will be met by prompt and merciless punishment, and the standard will rise to this level of public honor. It can be done. It ought to be done.

Missouri products should certainly be conspicuous on the steamship which the Government is to send around the world next spring to show what can be produced in the United States.

THE JEROME CAMPAIGN.

The retirement of Charles J. Flanner, the Republican candidate for District Attorney of New York, in favor of Mr. Jerome's candidacy marks a notable advance in the battle of the reform forces against the machine elements of both parties. Both the Republican and the Tammany machines refused to nominate endorse Mr. Jerome, and Mr. Flanner's resignation, with an appeal to Republicans to support Mr. Jerome, removes one strong obstacle to Jerome's success.

Mr. Jerome's fight against the New York bosses is the most interesting and significant campaign of the year. The party bosses turned down Mr. Jerome's candidacy, as a rebuke for his fearless performance of duty and as a warning to other public officers that they must obey their commands or retire from public office. He is making an independent fight without any party machine or party organization at his back. He is relying solely upon an appeal to the people to reward a faithful and courageous public servant.

Mr. Jerome's campaign is a test of the practical value of the moral uprising of the people against subservience to bossism and corruption in office. His success or failure will be taken all over the country as a demonstration of the strength of the moral revolt in the largest city of the country. All of the people are watching with profound interest the progress of his campaign and the action of the voters of New York City. The election returns will show whether the New York voters are in hearty sympathy with the reform movement or are indifferent to it; whether the indications of reform in the metropolis are genuine or merely signify surface perturbations having no real force or meaning.

The sympathy of the plain people everywhere is with Mr. Jerome and with the independent newspapers and citizens who are trying to place New York under his leadership on the fighting line of the reform movement. This sympathy is strong in Missouri where the people proved the political value of reform sentiment by winning a signal victory over the bosses.

Who will believe Secretary Shaw's assertion that we came near to a panic in 1902? How could such a thing have been possible with our increased tariff duties?

MR. ROOSEVELT ON LYNCHING.

In his forcible rebuke of lynching and the lynch spirit in his Little Rock speech President Roosevelt appeals to the thoughtful, law-abiding citizens of the South and he should be supported by this class without reservation or exception.

It needed courage to make this attack, and courage is a virtue held in especial respect among the people of the South.

"To avenge one hideous crime by another is to reduce the avenger to the bestial level," said the President.

This is a hard saying in the ears of men who have winked at vengeance or perhaps taken part in lynching bees. But no sane man who is not bound by passion and prejudice will dispute its truth.

It is a question between reason and passion—the question which had to be answered by primitive man before he became quite a man. No community in this time can afford to yield to passion even on the extremest provocation.

Revenge is not even "wild justice," as Francis Bacon called it. It is barbarism pure and simple and Mr. Roosevelt did not exaggerate when he employed the unpleasant adjective quoted to describe the grade of civilization represented by its devotees.

Clothing does not make the man, but it distinguishes the honest citizen from the convict.

A TAXPAYER

A MISSOURI SHOWING.

By a Plain Citizen.

THE Bureau of Labor and Statistics at Jefferson City has footed up the annual sales of Missouri products beyond the State limits.

The total reaches $24,486,000. These are large figures, and they have a large interest in them.

They show that we are growing in knowledge of how to make a net cash showing and that this growth amounts to about $60,000,000 a year.

This pleases us. We like to grow and we like to grow in millions.

Perhaps, also, we may be pleased by finding an opportunity to grow in wisdom.

The Jefferson City statisticians may not have taken that into consideration, but still they supply the opportunity for it.

They show that the women who manage the chicken yards of the State are almost alone in the State in their knowledge of how to handle the largest possible surplus product so as to convert it into wealth as net gain.

What we consume ourselves of our own product is a gain, but the political economists are in doubt whether or not it is wealth after we consume it, and they are certain it is not net gain.

The women who manage the chicken yards have realized this great fact. In only three items of all its products does the State show that it has an annual surplus marketable at over $30,000,000 and under a year.

All this time the women who manage the chicken yards go on increasing their surplus and marketing it for cash.

We might manufacture and ship a surplus of cotton goods which would show the women the meaning of the higher walks of political economy in first creating a surplus and then creating a market for it where no market was before. But do we?

When we get below the chicken and eggs wholesale class; we drop to two products in the class between twenty and thirty millions and then we keep on dropping until the rest of our business as a State with the outside world is done at retail in figures of $3,000,000 and under a year.

All this time the women who manage the chicken yards go on increasing their surplus and marketing it for cash.

They show that the women who manage the chicken yards of the State are almost alone in the State in their knowledge of how to handle the largest possible surplus product so as to convert it into wealth as net gain.

The LITTLE BOY THAT GREW.

THE FRIDAY
GOOD NIGHT STORY

BY PAUL WEST

O NCE I knew a little boy who was so much smaller than his playmates that he bore the nickname of Snipper. He was about 10 years old when I knew him, but he was no larger than a child of 4. This lack of size forced him out from football and many other sports of the boys of his age, but larger growth had made him very unhappy. It was foolish of him, of course, to feel his smallness, but, boy, he was a well-built, pretty child otherwise, and should have known that simple bigness is nothing. The diamond as big as your little finger nail is worth thousands of times as much as the whole pane of glass in the window. Some of the world's greatest men have been very small, too, but Snipper didn't know these truths, or if he did he didn't stop to think of them, and his fond parents were kept miserable listening to his complaints about being so undersized.

"Be a good boy and be happy," said his mother, one day, after Snipper had been particularly bitter in deplored his littleness. "Papa and I couldn't love you any more if you were 40 times as big."

he found pinned to his pillow a package which he found contained a stick of candy. He put it in his pocket and said nothing about it at the breakfast table—in fact, he said nothing about anything to any one, he was in such bad spirits—but kept it until he had started to school.

When he got down the street a little way he took the candy out of his pocket and ate it all hurriedly, for he was afraid that if he took it to school some of the larger boys would take it away from him.

At recess the last of the candy disappeared down his throat he felt a sudden change. He seemed to stretch out, and to his intense surprise he found himself looking over the tops of trees and houses. His feet seemed great distance away and when he looked down he could hardly see the ground. He took a step forward and was startled to notice that one move of his feet carried him from Deacon Jones' barn almost to the Baptist church, a distance it had always taken him two or three minutes to walk. With his next step he stumbled over something and found that he had kicked against Jameson's grocery store and knocked it over. Mr. Jameson and two or three customers struggling in the wreck. Horrified, Snipper started to run, crushing through the village like a giant (which, as you have guessed, he had suddenly become), knocking houses over, tearing up the great elms on the village green and frightening horses and people.

The whole populace, on seeing the tremendous giant, were fleeing helter-skelter for protection, but Snipper had no intention of hurling any one. He was more afraid of himself than they were of him. So, as the people yelled at

"Goldfish," said the cashier.

"Good Lord," said Jones; "Goldfish! If I'd ordered them I suppose I'd had to stay a week and work out the debt."

The proprietor of the restaurant got

"Portion, your hat," said Jones. "I want a whole red snapper and the biggest one in the house."

"The waiter went into the kitchen and then returned to Jones to ask if he was sure he wanted a whole red snapper."

"Yes, a whole one," said Jones. "I just got in from Caldwell, Kan., and I'm hungry."

"The waiter had hit town with only a five dollar bill, nearly wilted, but he got out the five and paid the bill. As he passed the cashier's desk he bent over and asked softly: 'Mister, what's those little fish in the jar there?'

"Goldfish," said the cashier.

KAUFMANN HAS UNIQUE RECORD

Has Won Every Fight in Which He Has Engaged in First Round.

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Few fighters can make the same boast that is attributed to Al Kaufmann, the Frisco youngster who fights Philadelphia Jack O'Brien this evening. Kaufmann has engaged in seven ring battles and he has yet to hear the gong announced at the end of a first round. On every occasion he delivered a knock-out punch before the end of the first three minutes of the fight had passed.

Billy Delaney, Kaufmann's manager, is one of the oldest champion makers in the business. The only man who can boast a longer record I believe, is George M. Sullivan, who has discovered John L. Sullivan and Peter Maher, the perpetual Irish champion. Corbett, the great Corbett, was years ago, when James was coming up, with John L. Sullivan in New Orleans. After that he turned to Corbett for a time, but returned to California, where he had a quiet one tree in his back yard. Corbett forgot all about his old-time admirers, and it is a trick (he doesn't have) until the day comes for him to fight Fitzsimmons at Carson City. Again Delaney took charge of the boy. But when he came to St. Louis the last week refused to take Delaney's advice. He broke away like a crazy madman and overworked daily in spite of Delaney's almost tearful忠告.

This condition is brought about by the fact that the amateur offered a cash. The A. A. U. does not allow amateurs to accept cash.

While the amount offered is not in any way large, the fact that there is any money at all at stake will result in making all bowlers participants in money-making contests in the eyes of the A. A. U., which controls amateur athletics in the United States.

Many cocked-hat rollers are men of highest standing in business and social circles, and have always been exceeding popular with spectators, and in a manner consonant with amateur ethics, but this feature of cash prizes has prevented a number of experts from entering amateur contests.

President John O'Connor of the Western Division, Amateur Athletic Union, who also vice-president of the National A. A. U., says that the rule of professional states that competition in amateur contests makes the competitor a professional. Post-Dispatch reporter Mr. O'Connor quotes:

"The rules of the Amateur Athletic Union," continued Mr. O'Connor, "state that no prizes shall be given for individual contests, and that no association or competitor for or accepted by any athlete, excepting suitably inscribed trophies, ornaments, medals, timetables and mantel ornaments."

Loyd Rickert, secretary of the St. Louis Branch of the A. A. U., who suggested the tournament and who suggested the idea of the league meeting, said:

"I hope the custom for years to award a certain number of dollars cash for the bowling competitions. We all realize that this basis of cash for prize pieces is the cause of the rise of professionalism, and that a player in the tournament loses his amateur status, and therefore, in my opinion, that now is the time to put a stop to the practice. Place bowling on an amateur basis where it belongs and cut out the cash features."

AMATEUR BOXERS TO GO TO KANSAS CITY.

Many St. Louis boxers will probably be attracted to the opening of the Kansas City, Mo., Auto Club, Nov. 6 and 7, May Devle, the newly elected secretary of the Last End Club, is not arranging to send representatives of his club to the tournament. It is not improbable that O. L. Kirk and Anton Kucera, who fought such a desperate battle Saturday night at the M. A. C., will be among the competitors.

GRIFFITH WILL CLEAN HOUSE AT NEW YORK.

Williams, Elberfeld, Fultz and Dougherty Will Be Relaxed by Highlanders.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—According to Clark Griffith, manager of the New York American League team, there will be no more games between Williams, Elberfeld, Fultz and Dougherty until probably draw their releases. Fultz and Dougherty are practically sure to be released, while Williams and Dougherty are not so sure of their places. Oldring, Cockman, Moriarity, Hahn and DeLahunt will replace them if able to make good.

Griffith has been disappointed by the showing the past season of his all star team, and he has decided to let a team of youngsters be contemplated.

BILLIARDS AND BOWLING.

George Gundacker defeated Dr. Fodle in the billiards tournament at the Grand last night by the score of 35 to 28. The winner played very fast billiards and Dr. Fodle was slow. Dr. Fodle, however, was below Gundacker's average. Fodle was unfortunate, being kibitzed off many times when a shot was attempted, while Gundacker was not. The high ball four, while Fodle averaged .30 and ran three, Sonner and Wallace are scheduled to play tonight.

Sam Parsons defeated R. R. Lyons in the billiards tournament at the Grand last night by the score of 3 to 2. The game was an interesting one. Parsons winning the first two games and losing the other four. L. W. Waldecker will meet J. G. Rogers tonight.

The Brooks won the odd game from the Bankers in the Grand alleys last night.

The Mount City won the game from the Crescent alleys and the Mount City three of the five games from the Elm Lanes.

In the three-session tournament at the Grand last night, Drissell defeated Kahn by the score of 25 to 18. The winner's average was .40 and Kahn's was .36. The game was a tie until the last session, when he turned to him in whispers. "I'm afraid, Bob, you are going to win." "I know it," Kahn replied. "Corbett was knocked out in the first three nights because he was too fatigued. I am not in shape, but I am in better condition than he is."

For three nights before the fight, the fight-old Bill Delaney walked around and around Corbett's cottage, standing guard in the snow and slush and mud, and disturbed the sleepers who might break into the champion's bunks. He would slip out and talk to him in whispers. "I'm afraid, Bob, you are going to win." "I know it," Kahn replied. "Corbett was knocked out in the first three nights because he was too fatigued. I am not in shape, but I am in better condition than he is."

Delaney, who was to play in the hand-cushion tournament at the Royal tonight,

In the Palace Temple League, the Lord manicures was the odd game from the Ten Cent manicures on the Crescent alleys and the Florists captured two of their three games with the Elm Lanes.

In the Druggists' League last night the winners were Mount City Paints 3, Moffett-Wests 2; Meyer Bros. 3, Ell-Lilly's 2; J. S. Melchers 3, Nelson Bakers 2.

In the Haupt League the victors Monday evening were the Norwood Haups and Securitons.

In the Catholic League the Fandrels defeated the Orpheus 3 to 2, and the Ivory-white washed the Lawrences in five straight games.

In the St. Louis Tramp League the Brooks defeated the Bakers 2 to 1.

The news of Jimmy Gardner's success in the 10-mile race at Madison Square Garden, San Francisco, was a source of great satisfaction to young fighter's friends here. He is expected to clean up the annual two of the Sullivan's in London next month.

Young Mullin of Burlington, N. J., is reported to be matched by Eddie Pay of Indianapolis.

MOTHERHOOD

Actual Sterility in Woman Is Very Rare—Healthy
Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some deficiency or displacement of the female organs they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacements, ulceration and inflammation.

A woman who is in good physical condition is able to bear children the blessings of a good constitution. Is not this an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for thirty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in suffering, and in disappointments at birth.

The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Woman's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
I was married for six years and gave birth to two healthy children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me, and so I got it for it cured me from all sorts of trouble. I am now a strong, happy and healthy one within seven months. Within two years a lovely little girl was born, who is now a joy to our household. Every day I bless Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the light, health and happiness it brought to our home.

If any woman thinks she is sterile, or has doubts about her ability to carry a child to term, she should write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., whose advice is free to all expectant or would-be mothers. She has helped thousands of women through this anxious period.

Women suffering with irregular or painless menstruation, leucorrhoea, displacement, ulceration or inflammation of the womb, that bearing down feeling or ovarian trouble, headache, bloating or nervous prostration, should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of woman's ills, and accept no substitute.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
I was married for several years and no children blessed our home. The doctor said I had a concretion in my womb and had not got any children unless I could be cured. For months I took his medicines.

Modern Miller crop outlook reports that over considerable area of the hard-winter wheat crop, which has been broken, has been insufficient and is entirely lacking in some parts, especially in the early morning.

Some evidence of deficient germination is reported.

Many Texas farmers have used their own seed, which is considered to be inferior in quality that poor results are feared.

In most of the winter wheat territory the crop sentiment in oats was better as a result of larger receipts in the Northwest than expected, the grain quality quite satisfactory.

The drop in Paris exchange on

London and the advance in demand for gold, to be substantially known, on Tuesday, Oct. 25, was advanced in the early morning, but was followed by a sharp decline, with an inflow of bids, are the two things that would help to readjust the situation.

The market, however, are considered likely until next Thursday, when the first gold statement of the subsequent week is expected.

The market may not be postponed indefinitely.

Reading continues a strong feature and the market is still continuing excellent.

Estimates on the net earnings of this company for the four months not yet reported are $1,000,000, while the Reading

Company will earn during the current calendar year $2,630,000, while the surplus after charges and preferred dividends will be taken care of, thus earning between 15 and 14 per cent.

The elimination of the short interest in the stock market, the notable position and aggressive bear tactics which the market neared the close of the week, and the feeling on the floor was distinctly bearish. News generally was of a negative character, and the foreign situation and the uncertainty of the money market to offer prices down.

At the low point of the week, the close of the close was active and weak at the decline.

This Milk is Free From Disease Germs.

YOU can't be too careful about milk. For milk is one of the most fertile fields for disease germs. There are many conditions which affect milk—which change it from a nourishing beverage to a disease infecting agent.

For instance, the physical condition of the milkman—the condition of the stable—the cleanliness of the cow herself and of the milkman—the condition of the cans, strainers, etc.—the sterility of the water used in washing the cans—all these have to be carefully attended to, else the milk may carry tuberculosis, typhoid, diphtheria, or some other terrible disease.

In addition to this all milk contains souring germs which produce diarrhea, cholera morbus, or cholera infantum.

In 99 cases out of 100 no attention whatever is paid these conditions of the milk, no attempt is made to keep it free of disease or souring germs.

With Van Camp's Sterilized Cream, however, it is different.

Every drop of Van Camp's Sterilized Cream is entirely sterile (free from disease or souring germs) when it reaches our sterilization plant.

You can make absolutely sure by inspection that each cow has no constitutional disease—no local disease of the udders—that the milkman is perfectly healthy and clean—that the cow and stall are sweet and clean, and that the water used in washing the cans is sterile.

But to make assurance doubly sure, we sterilize by successive shocks of heat and cold all this pure and already sterile Milk and Cream.

So that if by the least chance any disease or souring germs might have accidentally reached the milk it would be destroyed.

That's why Van Camp's Sterilized Cream will keep for years in its air tight tins—will keep for 26 hours in the refrigerator when opened, or for 8 hours if left open in the kitchen.

That's why it retains its delicious almond like flavor and richness until it is used.

That's why Van Camp's Sterilized Cream never contains any disease or souring germs.

That's why it is the most healthful Milk in the world to use.

You can buy Van Camp's Sterilized Cream at your Grocers at 10 cents a tin, or a case of 48 tins for $4.50 (9 cents a tin).

DEMOCRATS FEAR LID WILL LOSE STATE

Apprehensive That Republicans Will Carry 15,000 Majority From St. Louis.

GET TOGETHER, THE IDEA

Folk's Chances for Presidential Nomination Figure in Coming Campaign.

AT SEA ON LOCAL LEADER

Law Enforcement Will Be the Slogan of the Party in Missouri.

Fear that St. Louis will roll up a tremendous majority for the Republican ticket next year and endanger Democratic chances in the State at large has aroused the fighting spirit of Missouri Democrats, many of whom are urging Chairman Evans of the State Committee to take immediate steps in preparation for the 1906 campaign.

State Senator Frank M. McCallister of Monroe County—the banner Democratic stronghold in Missouri—remarked to a Post-Dispatch reporter at the Laclede Hotel Thursday that reports received from St. Louis by Democratic leaders in the rural districts are far from encouraging.

There are plenty of remedies by which you can relieve for the time heartburn, pain and gas on the stomach and can smother nervous spasms and induce artificial sleep. You can humor your stomach by giving it predigested food. But when you take your next meal all your trouble begins afresh.

There is only one sensible thing to do. Strengthen the stomach and do away with the necessity for drugs and artificial foods. The stomach, once in proper condition, will do its work better than any process devised by man can ever do it. The best remedy ever found for this purpose was that was used by E. E. Strong of Capleville, Shelby County, Tenn.

"For years," he states, "I suffered greatly from indigestion. I tried many different remedies and some of them would relieve me for a time, but the trouble always came back. About six months ago I had an unusually severe attack and while I tried everything I had ever heard of, I found that none of the ordinary remedies would reach the bottom of the trouble."

"One day I read in a Memphis paper an account of the very remarkable cure of a Michigan woman, a sufferer from chronic dyspepsia of a most stubborn type. Twelve doctors had at different times treated her without success, but at last she was entirely cured, and in a short time, too, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Her statement led me to make trial of the same remedy and it proved just as successful in my case. I took only three boxes, and I am convinced that I am permanently cured. I have not had the slightest symptom of indigestion for the last twelve months."

The tonic treatment has a sound principle as its basis, and abundant success in actual use. Multitudes of cases that had defied all other remedies have been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pills actually make new blood and strike at the root of all diseases caused by bad blood. They contain no harmful stimulants or opiates, are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Every dyspeptic should read "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a copy.

FOLK FOR PRESIDENT.

The Folks are plainly worried over the political situation as it now appears.

That Missouri Democrats intend to present Folk's name for the presidency at the national convention three years hence is accepted as conclusive.

Friends of the Governor are in absolute control of the party organization and they intend to make the question of law enforcement the cardinal issue of the approaching campaign.

If the party should suffer a setback on this platform, it is conceded that Folk's presidential boom would be seriously punctured. For that reason, Judge Evans, Insurance Commissioner Vandiver, Excise Commissioner Mulvihill, and the members of the Election Board and Joe Shannon, the Kansas City Democratic leader, are getting their heads together in an effort to straighten out present complications in the party.

There is a disposition to stop at once ex-Gov. Dockery's plan to have the Democrats of Kansas City nominate him for Congress, because his party followers in the Third District are unable to secure the nomination for him there.

Dockery, the politicians observe, has been preaching harmony ever since Folk was elected, whereas it is pointed out he fought Folk almost up to the day of the nomination.

Just now the ex-Governor is a pessimist on the outlook for his party.

He has told friends that he doesn't see much of a future for the Folks in Missouri next year. This statement has angered Gov. Folk and his lieutenants, and they are now determined, it is said, to "freeze out" Dockery and destroy his cherished ambition to return to Congress so long as they are permitted to handle the party reins.

Gov. Folk is a member of a chapter of the St. Louis Democratic literary dinner club. He and his wife are members of the Fourth Ward.

Sen. Kinney has assured Gov. Folk that he can get the presidential nomination for Folk.

"And, lad, or no lad," says Kinney, "the fourth ward will be there with its full-line majority."

For the standpoint of practical politics Kinney is the main hope of the local Democracy under existing conditions of consequence.

Gov. Folk is loath to see Nelson W. McLeod take up the responsibility of party leadership, but McLeod insists that he is the only possible candidate.

The greatest star seen by the folk men in the St. Louis political firmament at the time of the election was Senator Kinney.

Chairman Thomas K. Niedringhaus of the St. Louis State Committee has already instituted a house-to-house canvass among the voters of Missouri. His idea is that the voters will be more likely to vote six months from now than every voter stands.

"Missouri is a long, a doubtful state," said Mr. Niedringhaus Friday. "It is Republican through and through and we are going to get more than the full proportion of the vote."

There is some dissension among Republicans, but it is not serious enough to injure the Folks.

Chairman Atkins is tired of the mass strikes and the senatorial fight at Jefferson City last winter and wants to get out of the subtreasurer's office and into the Mexican ambassadorship.

Chancellor Andrews Makes Recomendation to Prison Congress.

WOULD AID SCIENCE

Little Further Progress Possible, He Holds, From Post-Mortem Dissection.

CONDENMED MEN DIVIDED

Johann Hoch, Chicago Wife Slayer, However, Thinks Idea Good One.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 27.—Chancellor Andrews of the University of Nebraska caused a sensation in his address before the National Prison Congress at its closing session, when he suggested the propriety of turning over murderers to surgeons to be utilized in the interests of science.

The words of Chancellor Andrews were as follows:

"It is, I suppose, a fact that no further knowledge of the human body is to be hoped for by studying the cadaver. All advance in anatomy and physiology for the behoof of medicine and surgery, helping against disease, pain and death, must come from the same places—the examination of living specimens, preferably human. One of the most useful services to humanity which a living human body could perform would be letting itself be experimented with under anaesthetic or otherwise, to help solve outstanding physiological or biological problems. A body used that way might easily produce benefit to the race compared with that of a soldier's death in battle would seem trifling."

"One would not go so far as to wish hardened murderers under condemnation forced against their wills to serve science in the way named, but if the subject voluntarily submitted himself for such a service under the strictest and most benevolent guardianship, it would seem that the death penalty, even of an incorrigible murderer, might justly be commuted thereto."

Murderers Divided on Vivisection Question.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Shall condemned murderers be vivisected? This question raised by Chancellor C. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska in an address in Lincoln, Neb., was put to three condemned murderers at the County Jail today.

They discussed it with vigor. Julian Hough, 30, of Erie, John Mueller, the first two of whom have obtained a respite, and the other who was sentenced Saturday to hang Dec. 15, failed to agree on the propriety of submitting themselves to surgeons. Mueller and Briggs repudiated the idea. Hoch favored it, but certain exceptions.

He was explained to Mueller on his saying he would "rather face the rope than Prof. Andrews in his address suggesting that condemned men, which criminals volunteered to be made subjects of anatomical study, to exchange their criminal records, which are carried with it some hope of freedom where criminals recovered from intracardiac operations."

The light of hope shot into Mueller's face. "I'd take a chance on that, I believe." He slept last night, recovered brightly, happy again, and when he had done humanly some good anyway.

"You'd have a poor chance," put in Hoch, putting at a cigar. "The doctors would not be very careful. They would not let you live long, then they would try all kinds of fancy things on you."

About ninety-nine in a hundred would never get off the operating table.

"I don't think I'd be afraid to die."

"You'd beat the rope then, wouldn't you?" They would not get the satisfaction of killing him, he said.

Briggs, in his shirt sleeves, walked up to the bars. "The question of vivisection is simple. If he wants to do it, he would not stand for it," he declared positively. "I'd rather take the rope all alone, we're going to die."

"I don't want any sympathy about it," declared Hoch as he turned to give his final opinion. "I would not want to be here for recovery. I would not know the doctors would never let me wake up, willing, for the sake of humanity, to let the doctors chloroform me and to get up upon my body, and I would like to live a worth while life, get out and everybody points their fingers at him and calls him a murderer? Faww! I would rather have the doctors stand by the rope if the courts decided against me."
